THREE WOMEN MET ANOTHER NEW DEATH ON TRACKS BUSINESS BLOCK

Automobile Struck by Milk Train and Instant Death Comes to Three. Men are Badly Hurt. One Escapes.

Three women were instantly killed and two men badly hurt this morning near Grantham when the milk train due at Gettysburg at 10:35 struck an automobile which had been backed onto the track. Samuel Weiser, of Gettysburg, is conductor of the train, and Charles Todd, of Harrisburg, is the engineman. The dead:

Mrs. Daniel Winter, Chambersburg.
Mrs. J. L. Myers, near Greencastle.
Mrs. Cyrus Carbaugh, near Chambersburg.

The men hurt are Daniel Winter and his son, Norman. Mrs. Myers' daughter, the sixth occupant of the car, was thrown clear of the wreckage and escaped injury.

The party were on their way from Chambersburg to attend the conference now in session at the Messiah Bible School at Grantham. Mr. Winter was driving the machine and the tracks had been crossed safely. The automobile stopped when part way up the sharp incline on the other side and Mr. Winter allowed it to drift back to the foot of the hill. The rear wheels were resting on the railroad track when he again put on the power to make the hill but before the machine started the rapidly moving train came around the sharp curve and struck the automobile. It is believed that none of the occupants heard or saw the approaching train.

The three women were on the rear seat and received the full impact of the shock. They were all dead when members of the train crew reached them. Several were badly mangled. Mr. Myers and his son were badly cut about the head. The little girl escaped entirely.

Several physicians were summoned from nearby points and did what they could to alleviate the sufferings of the men and to care for Mrs. Myers' little daughter who was prostrated with grief. Later in the day the bodies were removed to Chambersburg and Greencastle. The members of the party who escaped death were able to be taken to their homes.

LONGER JOURNEYS

College People no Longer Can Go by Short Way.

Professors and students at Gettysburg College who have been accustomed to take the short cut from the campus across the Reading railroad tracks to get to Springs avenue, have been notified that they must discontinue the practice at once. The Reading intends to break up completely all trespassing on their tracks. The action will mean a long trip for all those who live in the western part of town and have been going across the fields. The Reading is doing the same kind of thing all over their system and refuses to let pedestrians use their tracks even if they agree that it is at their own risk.

GEORGE SWOPE

Former Resident of Orrtanna Dies in Illinois Town.

He leaves his wife and five children, four sons and one daughter. S. D. Ridinger, of West Middle street, and Samuel Baltzley, of Orrtanna, are brothers-in-law.

The funeral was held at Compton.

BUY AN ENGINE

Another Step toward Opening of East End Railroad.

Directors of the new East Berlin Railway Company on Friday purchased a locomotive for their line. It was bought from the H. M. Foster Company, of Baltimore, and was formerly used on the Emmitsburg Railway. If the weather is favorable it is believed that things can be got in shape to resume operations between Berlin Junction and East Berlin in the early spring, and later in the year to Abbotstown.

National Garage will Re-Build. Three New Residences to be Erected this Spring. Other Building Activities.

David J. Forney announced this morning plans for the erection of a new three story garage and apartment building on Chambersburg street, on the site now occupied by the present structure which includes the National Garage, the Spangler restaurant and dwelling.

The new building will be of brick construction with four pillars of either brick or granite. The front will be most attractive in appearance. On the first floor will be the garage with a modern entrance-way, a store room, and the Spangler restaurant. The second and third floors will be built for use as apartments. Work is to be started as soon as John W. Crowe, the architect, has completed the plans, and will add its share to the many other building operations now under way or soon to be started in various portions of the town.

At least three new residences will be built in Gettysburg during the early spring and it is expected that others will be started as the year progresses. James Reaver will erect a double brick dwelling on the lot on Carlisle street next to the John W. McIlhenny property. George W. Bender will put up a substantial brick residence on Lincoln avenue, East, and Rev. S. F. Snyder will build on West Stevens street, facing Prep Campus. His residence will be of brick construction and likely will follow the bungalow style of architecture.

George F. Eberhart's large and substantial garage and apartment building at the corner of Washington and Chambersburg streets will constitute a great improvement to that portion of town. The three story front of white hollow tile and the use of stucco on the Washington street side will suit well the imposing style of architecture to be followed in its construction, while the interior arrangement, both of the garage and the apartments, is distinctive and attractive. The building will be one of the most conspicuous in the town, according to the blue prints over which it is now being erected.

The college grounds will be the scene of building operations for many months to come. The new Gettysburg Academy building work has now reached almost to the top of the first story and it is expected that it will be under roof early in the spring. The plans call for its completion before the opening of school next September.

A water color of the building as it will appear when completed has been in the window of W. H. Tipton for several weeks and has elicited most favorable comment. The college board of trustees at the December meeting decided to build a large wing on the north of the chemical laboratory. This, too, is to be completed before next September and the plans are now being prepared.

The most extensive change to be made to any mercantile establishment will be that at the Masonic building, owned by Roy P. Funkhouser. The improvements were described at length in a recent issue of The Times. Briefly they will include the installation of a thoroughly modern front on the first floor, the entire renovation and enlargement of the store rooms, the extension of the newspaper quarters southward, and other extensive changes.

WOULD RATHER BE RING IS GIVEN AN EX-PRESIDENT HOTEL LICENSE

Says Dr. Granville than not See through Campaign to Eliminate Objectionable Feature of College Athletics.

Addressing the college presidents of Pennsylvania at their meeting in Philadelphia on Friday, Dr. W. A. Granville said the system whereby a student goes through college solely on his athletic ability, paying no tuition and doing but little studying, ought to be stopped.

"I know this is perilous ground for college presidents to explore," he said, "because of the interest of many of our influential alumni and our boards in athletic supremacy, but I am willing to be an ex-president, if necessary, to fight this thing through."

"Our institutions are spending too much money on athletics. They are spending private and public endowments that are intended for educational purposes, for athletic ones."

Dr. Granville is one of a committee of five college presidents that had been appointed to investigate college athletic problems, and reported that the time had come for the purification of college athletics. All the suggestions regarding the problem of athletics in college came from this committee which summed up its attitude in the following resolution:

"It is the sense of this body that the migratory rule, that is, the rule that a student coming from one institution to another shall be registered as a student in the latter institution for one year before being permitted to take part in inter-collegiate activities, should be adopted by all institutions (colleges and universities) in Pennsylvania."

"It is also the sense of this body that it is prejudicial to the best interests and good name of our colleges and universities to grant scholarships on account of athletic ability."

The committee was composed of Dr. J. W. A. Haas, of Muhlenberg, chairman; Dr. E. E. Sparks, of Pennsylvania State; Dr. Isaac Sharpless, of Haverford; Dr. William A. Granville of Gettysburg; and Dr. S. B. Linhart, of the University of Pennsylvania.

These men were empowered to make a thorough investigation of the athletic activities and relations of all colleges and universities in Pennsylvania. The advisability of abolishing paid coaches and of establishing a board of arbitration which shall settle athletic disputes between colleges are two of the questions that will receive much of their attention.

In the debates which followed the report of the five college presidents, some of the members of the association became extremely bitter in their denunciations of so-called "demoralizing practices" and of the tendency of "subordinating intellectual development to athletic superiority."

The smaller colleges came in for much criticism in this respect. It was said that many of them employ paid athletes, commonly called "ringers", to represent the school during the football season. These students appear temporarily on the rolls, but they usually disappear after the football season closes.

Immediately after the ceremony they left on a trip to Atlantic City and other points. On their return they will reside at Forrest Park, Baltimore.

McKINLEY'S BIRTHDAY

And Gettysburg Paid no Heed to its Observance.

For the first time in many years Gettysburg failed to take any notice of McKinley's birthday which falls on January 29th. All over the country the day is celebrated by individuals wearing the martyr-president's favorite flower, the carnation, but only one or two were seen here to-day.

Succeeds in Showing Necessity in York Court and Hotel Brooks will now be Able to Serve Drinks.

J. A. Ring, former proprietor of Hotel Gettysburg, has been granted a liquor license for his new Hotel Brooks in York. A remonstrance had been filed on the ground of no necessity but the petitioner succeeded in convincing the Court that the place was necessary. The hotel has been conducted now for more than a year without license.

Licenses were refused Charles A. Hipp, Hotel Codorus, and Henry Berry, Alvern Hotel, on the grounds of non-necessity, and the former had a reputation of these hotels when they were conducted as licensed drinking places. Judge Wanner declared that he had no confidence in the intention of Berry to properly conduct the Alvern as a reputable hotel if granted a license.

Hipp has been conducting the Codorus Hotel as a temperance hotel for the past year. The house has been without a license for two years. The Alvern Hotel was conducted by Henry Berry as a licensed house up to one year ago, when Berry was refused renewal of his license by the court on the court's own motion.

The court stated that in deciding negatively in these two cases consideration had been given to the overwhelming number of remonstrants against granting of licenses to the applicants.

The case of Aaron A. Sipe, applicant for a license for the Rathskeller, Center Square, is still pending.

GARAGE ON WHEELS

Innovation for Route of the Lincoln Highway.

Word has been received at the National Headquarters of the Lincoln Highway Association that two enterprising garagemen plan a novel method of getting business during the coming year. Knowing that the most business is to be had where the greatest number of automobiles travel, they have determined upon the Lincoln Highway as the seat of the operations. They mean to equip a four and one-half ton truck as a traveling automobile shop and stay on the route of the Lincoln Highway between New York and San Francisco all during the summer. They will carry a lathe, drill press, force, welding outfit and in fact, everything needed for making all repairs.

A sentiment is growing all along the course of the Lincoln Highway that the residents and property owners on the route have such an important interest in common that some definite plan of getting together for their mutual good should be established.

It has been suggested that a list be compiled of all the rural residents on the Lincoln Highway with their addresses, and that these individuals thus appealed to through a community interest will each take a more lively interest in his particular section of the road and do more to keep fences and buildings in good order and generally add to the tone of appearances all along the way.

The suggestion originated with Mr. Corvin O'Neil, Lincoln Highway Consul at Le Grand, Iowa, who is certain that it will work out successfully.

FOR BETTER BOYS

Recreation Center is Hanover Project now Discussed.

A recreation center and community house will probably result from a mass meeting held in Hanover Thursday night, for the purpose of discussing the problem of social conditions revealed in the recent series of burglaries committed by youths of the town.

R. M. Little, secretary of the Associated Charities, of Philadelphia, made the principal address and recommended that a recreation center be established with a community house for the young people of the town and to look after the social health of the community. It is the desire to direct the energies of the young men and girls of Hanover into proper channels, and the claim was put forth that this could best be done by means of the recreation center and community house.

SHARRAH PROVES A GOOD WITNESS

No Hesitation in Answering Questions. Self Defense his Plea. Other Jurors Excused until Next Wednesday.

Oliver Sharrah is the best witness, in every sense, that his side of the case has. In both direct and cross examination he answers clearly, unhesitatingly and apparently tells the truth upon occasions when it may be disadvantageous to his cause. In all probability it will help him, because the jury is receiving an impression of straightforwardness that will serve him well in the end.

Upon a continuation of his direct examination at the opening of the Court this morning he was asked if his wife had told him of her relations with Deardorff. His reply was, "She said, 'I am going to tell you if he does kill me. He said he would kill me if I went back on him.' " Sharrah told of saying to Dr. Woerner that he would kill Deardorff provided the man did not stay away from his wife and house and explained that he spoke to the Doctor because he knew he and Deardorff were on friendly terms and he thought it would have some effect if the Doctor warned Deardorff to stay away.

The following questions then asked by Mr. Benner were answered promptly:

Q. "When you shot Peter Deardorff, did you aim for any part of his body?"

A. "I did not."

Q. "State whether or not, at the time of the shooting, you intended to kill Deardorff."

A. "No, sir."

Q. "What did you intend when you fired the shot?"

A. "To stop him; to keep him from getting me."

Q. "After you fired the shot, where did you go?"

A. "I went in the stairway, set the gun down and then came to see where he had fallen."

Q. "What did you do when you went upstairs?"

A. "Pulled the bed in front of the door and went to bed."

Q. "Why did you pull the bed in front of the door?"

A. "Because I didn't know how bad he was shot and I was afraid he would come up and kill me."

Q. "If the bed was in front of the door how did Dr. Woerner get into the room when he came?"

A. "I heard him outside and got up and pulled the bed away from the door. He said, 'I see you done what you said you would.' I said, 'Yes'; and told him I would have to get ready and go to town to give myself up."

The direct examination came to an end at this point and Fred Powell was called. He told of going with Deardorff to Sharrah's house on the Wednesday evening before the murder, the last visit Deardorff made before the fatal night. He had gone, he said, because Deardorff showed him a letter from Sharrah in which Sharrah said he wanted him to come and "make wrongs right", and Deardorff wanted some one to go with him.

In the cross examination of Sharrah, Mr. Keith quizzed him at length about drinking and his capacity for drink. Sharrah explained that he had stomach trouble and by reason of it could not drink so much. He told that two or three drinks did not affect him

BURNED OUT

Former Taneytown Landlord Suffers Loss at New Location.

Pius J. Fink, who recently moved from Taneytown to continue the hotel business at Palmyra, was burned out, last week. The fire originated in a garage adjoining the hotel, and caused a total loss of about $25,000. A part of Mr. Fink's furniture was saved. He had some insurance, but likely not enough to cover his loss. The building was owned by a Mr. Spangler, who estimates his loss at $10,000, with insurance of $6,600. Eleven automobiles were destroyed. Work on rebuilding the hotel has already commenced, and Mr. Fink expects to be in business again about July 1.

JUSTICE ONLY BASIS OF PEACE

President Opens Campaign For Preparedness.

MUST TREAT U. S. JUSTLY

Mr. Wilson Tells 1500 Clergymen He Always "Would Accept the Invitation to a Fight."

New York, Jan. 28.—President Wilson, in an address at the banquet of the Railway Business Association here, opened his preparedness campaign and outlined the defense needs of the nation.

George A. Post, president of the Railway Business Association, introduced the president in an address devoted to preparedness and the future of the railroads. He said the president's last message to Congress had encouraged railroad men to hope that a wise solution of the railroad problem might be reached through a sincere governmental study of the reciprocal relation of the carrier and the carried.

The president was busy from the time he arrived until he left at midnight, for a brief period in Washington before departing on a tour in the middle west to speak for preparedness. In addition to attending two banquets, the president spoke twice during the day, shook hands with a group of suffragists and took two automobile rides.

Insistence that the American people love peace, but must be treated justly, and must harmonize internal, racial and religious differences, marked his address at noon before a conference of 150 New York clergymen of all denominations. He declared that peace is inconsistent with the abandonment of principles and the loss of self-respect.

The president did not repeat his now famous phrase, "too proud to fight," but asserted belligerently, "that I always accept, perhaps by some impulse of my native blood, the invitation to a fight." He added that he hoped he always fought in "knightly fashion," that he did not "traumatize his antagonists," and that he fought with the intention of converting them.

"It is hard to hold the balance even when so many persons are involved," he said, "but I have known that in their hearts and by their purpose, the people of America have been trying to hold the balance even. The neutrality of the United States not only has been a formal matter, it has been a matter of conviction and of the heart."

He added that he could find no other foundation for peace than justice without aggression, and that the passion of America was to be allowed to live its own life according to its own principles.

During the morning the president repeated his opposition to action by the federal government on the women suffrage question, when speaking to a delegation of 200 members of the Congressional Union of Woman Suffrage, who called at his hotel and would not leave until he saw them.

Every time the president appeared on the streets he was warmly applauded by large crowds.

Mrs. Wilson spent the day shopping and was with him only a short time, until late in the afternoon, when they rode out Riverside drive together.

FRENCH LOSSES 2,500,000

Deputy to British Labor Conference Furnishes Figures.

Bristol, Eng., Jan. 28.—M. Longuet, a French Socialist, deputy, who addressed the British labor conference, on being questioned regarding the French losses, said that 800,000 soldiers had been killed, 1,040,000 had been wounded and 300,000 had been taken prisoners.

France has never furnished any official estimate of war casualties. Figures published last August, which it is stated (although not officially) were compiled by the ministry of war, put total French losses at 1,300,000 up to May 31, 1915. These were divided as follows: Killed, 460,000; wounded 660,000; prisoners 100,000.

British casualties up to December 9, 1915, were officially stated by Premier Asquith on December 24, 1915, to total 528,227.

EMBARGO PETITIONS STIR UP THE SENATE

Big Protest Against Export of Munitions Starts Debate.

Washington, Jan. 28.—For more than an hour the senate debated, in directly, the proposal to put an embargo on shipments of war munitions, and then without vote referred to the foreign relations committee, as the administration leaders wished, a thousand bundles of petitions bearing a million names asking that such an embargo be established.

Throughout a spirited debate precipitated by the question of what committee the petitions should go, there was no development which might fairly be construed as indicating the temper of the senate on the subject of an embargo, although a number of Republicans and Democrats spoke in favor of one on moral grounds, and on the further ground that the United States by the munitions shipments was endangering its relations with some of the belligerents.

Those senators who are known to be against any embargo on the ground that it would be an unequal act giving an advantage to one side in the war were generally silent during the debate.

The subject, which has been smoldering in the senate for some time, blazed up when Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, who favors an embargo, asked that the petitions be referred to the commerce committee. The senators who are known to favor an embargo, supported that request. Senator Stone, Missouri, of the foreign relations committee, who is looked to as speaking for the administration, asked that the petitions be referred to his committee, a course which the embargo advocates conceded they expected would mean no action.

MONTENEGRINS YIELD ARMS

Government Delegates Have Signed Pact, Vienna Says.

London, Jan. 28.—The news from the Montenegrin war theatre is still contradictory as regards details, but it is quite clear that Montenegro is now completely at the mercy of the Austrians, and that a majority of the Montenegrins are giving up their arms.

An Austrian statement says: "On Tuesday at 6 o'clock P. M., the delegates of the Montenegrin government signed articles regarding the laying down of arms of the Montenegrin army. The disarming is going on without difficulty, and has extended to the districts of Kolasia and Andrijevica."

Renew Zeppelin Warnings. London, Jan. 28.—That the authorities expect a resumption of Zeppelin raids on London, is indicated by the publication of Police warnings, which reads: "The increase in the offensive protection against hostile aircraft recently provided in the metropolitan district makes it more necessary that the public on the occasion of air raids take cover, so as to be sheltered from falling fragments of shells."

U. S. ARMY MEN WILL BE TRIED

Under Arrest For Invading Mexico to Aid Soldiers.

FOUR OF SQUAD DROWNED

Detachment Crosses Rio Grande to Search for Comrades Seized by Mexicans.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Another crisis has been brought about between the United States and Mexico through the seizure, by Mexicans, of two United States soldiers who had swum across the Rio Grande, near Brownsville, and the attempt of a detachment of their comrades, led by three commissioned officers, to release them.

The detachment swam across the Rio Grande, soldiers on the Texas side covering the crossing by gunfire, and invaded Mexican territory without finding the men who had been captured. Four men drowned in the passage. Their bodies were swept away and have not been recovered.

The soldiers who were captured were held until Thursday, when, according to a despatch from Brownsville, they were rescued by Carranza troops, taken to Matamoros and then turned over to the American officers. When they crossed the American border they were dressed in Mexican clothing.

The despatch said no word had been heard from the men since they swam across the river. The party which rescued them was sent out from Matamoros by Colonel J. D. Quintanilla, commander of the border in the absence of General Alfredo Riquelme.

Secretary of State Lansing declared that the crossing of the river by the band bent on rescue constituted a hostile act. Major General Funston, in charge of troops on the border, has placed under arrest the officers who are held responsible.

"The fact that the American party was in pursuit of Mexican bandits, does not detract from the seriousness of the case," Secretary Lansing said. It was indicated by officials that the officers who were arrested, will be tried by court-martial. Officials are considering sending word to the Carranza government that the action of the American party in crossing the border will not be condoned.

General Funston, in transmitting the report, said: "Colonel Blockson has ordered Lieutenants Mort, Peyton and Waldron to be placed in arrest, and Captain McBroom, Twenty-eighth Infantry, has been placed in command of the camp."

"Mr. Garza, Mexican consul, has been informed of exact contents of Major Anderson's telegram, and of arrest of three officers concerned. He has gone to Matamoros to inform commanding general there, and to ask that immediate search be made for Wheeler and Pederson. The Mexicans on other side were not in uniform."

NEW BURGLARY SCHEME

Rich Man's Home Plundered Under Guise of "Movie" House Robbery.

Monessen, Pa., Jan. 27.—While Charles Freeman, a wealthy theatrical man with a chain of showhouses in the valley towns, was away from home his house was plundered under the guise of a "movie house burglary."

In the absence of Freeman and his family, but one servant remained at the house. Wednesday just at day light a big van was driven up to the house and three men alighted, one carrying with him a movie camera. Presenting an order purporting to be signed by Mr. Freeman to the servant, the pseudo movie man began work. Everything of value excepting the furniture and carpets was taken.

All the plunder was to have been returned inside of an hour. The loss is close to $3000.

FIGHTING ALL ALONG THE WESTERN FRONT

Kaiser's Birthday Marked by Increased Activity.

Berlin, Jan. 28.—Reports from France and Flanders say that a favorable turn in the weather had been followed by active fighting on the entire western front.

Yesterday being the fifty-seventh anniversary of the Kaiser's birth, an important effort on the part of the German forces on this front was looked for.

Along nearly the whole line the roar of artillery was heard, but the heaviest fighting has been in the vicinity of Neuport, to the north of Ypres and in the Aronne.

German patrolling parties brought back word that German artillery had done effective work against trenches of the allies near Neuport. The British artillery, it is said, was hardly less active than that of the Germans. On one section of the front the British fired 1700 shrapnel shells. Two high explosive shells and about the same number of bombs within a period of twenty-four hours.

The mine explosives mentioned in Tuesday's official bulletin of the German headquarters staff were four in number. The Germans immediately occupied the craters caused by the explosions.

In another section near Neuville the Germans announced they captured three successive lines of French trenches and held them successfully against eight counterattacks, and announced that these trenches are still in German hands, although the fighting for them has assumed the character of hand-to-hand encounters.

LIVE WIRE BURNS BOY

Left Hand Burned Off and Large Hole Burned in Back of Head.

Felton, Del., Jan. 28.—Roy Hurd, twelve years old, was probably fatally injured near here when he accidentally touched a live wire while climbing a pole.

His left hand was burned off and a large hole burned in the back of his head. His condition is critical. John Hurd, twenty-two, a cousin of Roy Hurd, caught his right hand in a corn sheller and as a result it was amputated. His mitten caught in the knives and his hand was drawn into the machine.

Lancaster, Pa., Jan. 28.—David Eschman, of Pentry, entered suit against H. F. Trout, publisher of the Manheim Sentinel, a weekly newspaper, to recover $10,000 damages for an alleged libelous publication. It was printed in German on December 31, headed "Other People's Business," and signed "Wood Chopper." It alleged the article reflected on plaintiff's character.

OCEANS OF VODKA, BUT NOT A DROP TO DRINK.

Russia, Now Dry, Seeks Uses For 260,000,000 Gallons in Stock.

What can be done with the 260,000,000 gallons of vodka now held in stock by the Russian government as a consequence of the prohibition of the sale of the spirit?

This was the subject of an interesting debate at a recent session of the duma. Some members favored destroying the stocks, others wanted industrial uses found for the vodka, and all agreed that the stocks could not remain in existence as a temptation to some reactionary finance minister to reopen the monopoly and sale after the war.

The present finance minister, Bark, in concluding the debate made this momentous declaration:

"I deem it necessary to declare categorically that all suggestions ascribing to the government any intention of resuming the state sale of liquors are unfounded. I declare categorically that the government will encourage temperance after the war, also, and that any return to the old state of affairs is impossible. Proof of this intention is the fact that the government is now engaged in drawing up a bill on lines suggested by forty-five members of the duma for the maintenance of temperance for all time. This bill already has met with the sympathy of the council of ministers, and vodka, in accordance with the czar's wish, as expressed to me, will be totally prohibited forever. For this reason I am entirely in favor of destroying the existing stock of vodka."

In the course of further remarks M. Bark indicated a scheme for the utilization of the spirit for technical purposes. His ministry, he said, already had announced a series of prizes for inventions having for their object the adaptation of the spirit to technical purposes and had issued a pamphlet on the use of the spirit for motors and a prepared combination of the spirit and benzine for the use of motorists.

Further, the ministry had decided to make a grant of 130,000 (about $150,000) for the erection of a factory for manufacturing artificial india rubber out of the spirit on a system invented by Ostromyslenky, and measures would be taken for increasing the degree of methylation of existing stocks. M. Bark, in conclusion, agreed to grant 100,000 (about $500,000) to the temperance societies. He announced that no fewer than 48,000 salesmen of vodka already had been discharged, and that a large number of the remaining 8,000 had gone to the war.

Prugh, chairman of the Prohibition state committee, that a state convention will be held in Pittsburgh on February 22, at which there will be considered amendments to the rules of the party, plans for the campaign of 1916, and suggestions for nominations for president, United States senator from Pennsylvania, state treasurer, auditor general, congressman-at-large, national delegates and judge of the supreme court.

HAS FAITH IN QUICK
REMEDY FOR CATARRH
The People's Drug Store Guarantees
That Hyomei Will Relieve The Worst Cases of Catarrh in Gettysburg.

When one of the most reputable concerns in Gettysburg guarantees that a medicine will produce benefit or they will refund the money, it speaks volumes for the merits of that remedy. It is in this way that The People's Drug Store is selling Hyomei, the treatment that has helped so many cases of both acute and chronic catarrh in Gettysburg and vicinity.

Hyomei is not a pill nor is it a spray or a lotion that must be rubbed in. It is an oil, the air of which you just breathe in your nose, throat and lungs by the aid of an inhaler that comes with every outfit. Benefit will usually be seen from the very first treatment.

This air destroys all germ life in the air passages and lungs and enriches and purifies the blood with the additional ozone it supplies. It banishes catarrh of the head and throat and respiratory organs. Wherever these mucous membranes contain catarrhal germs, then Hyomei will do its work of healing.

The complete Hyomei outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks treatment.

Remember that if Hyomei does not relieve you The People's Drug Store will refund your money.

at all; he could see five or six but that number did not intoxicate him. He never had the capacity of Deardoff and had seen Deardoff drink two or three times as much as would intoxicate him (Sharrah).

He told of going to picnics with Deardoff, drinking with him, of the day he and his wife came to Gettysburg and various other things without becoming at all confused. When asked if he and Deardoff had ever quarreled before the past summer he said twelve years ago Deardoff had whipped him at the instance of Deardoff's brother who had a grudge against him. He stated they had made up the quarrel shortly after the occurrence and Deardoff told him his brother had paid him to whip Sharrah and that it was the last time he would take money to do anyone's fighting.

Court adjourned at noon with the announcement that there would not be another session until Monday morning and cautioned the jurors to conduct themselves over Sunday strictly according to the way they have been instructed.

Witnesses in the Einsig, Kauffman and Mills cases are excused until Wednesday, February 2nd. All general jurors are also excused from attendance until that time. This announcement was made when court was adjourned at noon.

That his shooting of Peter I. Deardoff was in self defense was the trend of the testimony of Oliver Sharrah on the witness stand Friday afternoon. The night of the tragedy, Sharrah declared, Deardoff was advancing with one hand behind his back and threatening to "knock his head off."

Then it was that Sharrah, shot-gun in hand, fired believing, he claims, that Deardoff was reaching for a revolver, as he stepped forward.

Sharrah related at length, Friday afternoon, the events of the evening leading up to the killing. He said that at Cashtown that night Deardoff had offered him two horses and a buggy or three horses if he would drop the case he had brought against him before Squire Hill. Sharrah said he replied that he wanted "satisfaction" and not money. Deardoff then offered to stop at the Sharrah house on his way home, Sharrah saying he could stop at the road but could not come into the house.

Later in the evening, according to the accused man, he and Mrs. Sharrah were sitting in the room at their home when Deardoff walked in, and paid no attention when Sharrah ordered him out but started to make advances to his (Sharrah's) wife. The two men started to tussle over the woman and Sharrah warned Deardoff to stop or "you will die". Deardoff replying "Make it a good shot for more than one can shoot."

Mrs. Sharrah refused to grant Deardoff's request to leave the house with him and she and Mr. Sharrah then went up stairs and to bed, according to the witness, who said they believed Deardoff would leave, but twice afterward upon coming down stairs found him still there. On the second one of these trips they found that Deardoff was attempting to open the door leading to the second floor by placing a window stick through the handle.

As Mrs. Sharrah opened the door Deardoff said "Where's that —?" He's the one I want to fix yet tonight," Sharrah answered, "Here I am," picking up the gun from the landing, and getting a shell from a shelf above him. He stepped down into a little room leading off from the stairway.

When he had placed the shell in the gun, Sharrah said to Deardoff "I will tell you for the last time to leave," Deardoff answering, "Whenever I go, she goes along. I'm not afraid of you if you do have a gun." Mrs. Sharrah was between the two men, trying to get the gun from her husband. Then with an oath and a threat to "knock his head off," Deardoff jumped to the landing and was stepping toward Sharrah with one hand behind his back, when he (Sharrah) pulled the trigger of the shot-gun.

Sharrah, who gives his age as 37, is of small stature and weighs about 130 pounds. He has a protruding forehead and his face shows many lines. He frequently smiles during the course of his testimony. His face has acquired the usual jail pallor but he does not appear to be down hearted and testifies freely.

His wife is a woman of medium height, with light hair and a rather hard expression. Her little, healthy looking daughter accompanies her to the court room sitting by her side without realizing that her father is on trial for murder. Mrs. Sharrah keeps her head bowed through a great part of the proceedings.

COURT OF NATIONS IS A FOOLISH IDEA

Such an Organization Could Never Prevent Wars.

WE HAVE TROUBLES ENOUGH

United States Kept Busy Maintaining
Her Own Neutrality and Has Not
Time to Make the Rest of the World
Quit Fighting—All Such Suggestions
Would Provide For Fighting Forces.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 29.—[Special.]—The prejudice of war has warped the minds of men to a great degree, and they do not seem to be able to see straight. Then, again, the fact that the United States has thus far been able to keep out of war has caused many people to think that this nation has the power to stop the war and to prevent future wars.

That is what accounts for the introduction of bills and resolutions having for their purpose the formation of a court of nations or for an aggregation of representatives of nations to prevent future wars. The object of all these measures is to have the United States take the initiative in the matter and bring the other nations together in a general peace movement.

Strange it is that in nearly all these measures there is the notion of force. A "police force," each nation to furnish a "sufficient naval and military force" to "enforce" the decrees of the international court, is provided in the bills.

Has Had Trouble Enough.

It would seem that the United States has had trouble enough keeping neutral and trying to protect its own neutrality without entering into any arrangement looking toward neutralizing the balance of the world. It is strange that the men who stand sponsors for such propositions do not realize that the world at large has an entirely different view and that aggrandizement and selfish interests predominate in nations as in individuals. It would be far better simply to adopt the Golden Rule and go forth with it as an emblem than to try to have international courts of universal peace.

The "Yellow Peril."

The menace of the Mongol is something real to the people of the Pacific coast, and people acquainted with that section of the country know that they have cause to be apprehensive. Congressman Hayes of California has introduced an exclusion bill in congress which shows just what the people fear. It prohibits all these races from entering the United States: Chinese, Japanese, Koreans, Tartars, Malays, Afghans, East Indians, Lascars, Hindus and all other persons of Mongolian or Asiatic race.

With a group of islands containing about 5,000,000 of these Asiatics it seems rather strange that we should be legislating against them, but the Pacific coast is in earnest on the subject.

"Pitiless Publicity."

Gone to its long sleep is a resolution introduced by Congressman Lindbergh of Minnesota providing that all committee meetings shall be open to the public. While many statesmen resist about "pitiless publicity" few are in favor of it when it comes to a matter affecting themselves. Men who screech about "turning on the light" never want the light turned on to their committee meetings and preliminary arrangements; hence the caucus which smoothes all differences and enables a majority to do as its leaders decree. Lindbergh is in earnest, but he will have little support.

Definition of a Name.

"Nevada—a state or place where some people go to get divorces and California men go to be elected to the senate." Senator Phelan of California gave that definition. He has recently found out that Nevada senators are not to take a great deal of interest in California affairs. It has often been said that California had four senators, the two from Nevada being California men.

Fame If Successful.

Fame goes with success and oblivion with failure. That is true of filibusters as of everything else. The successful filibuster earns the gratitude of those who believe with him and the respect of those who oppose him. Governor of Maryland made more fame by defeating the force bill in a famous filibuster than anything else he ever did in the senate. The men who attempted and failed to defeat the repeal of the silver purchase bill are forgotten, though they carried on a longer filibuster than has ever been known in the history of the senate. But they did not win.

Want More Money.

Just now there is an active movement spreading information as to the overwork of the American consular officers on account of the European war. Reading between the lines it is observed that it is simply a more to get more money. There is a demand for increased salaries with every such mood of praise.

Want More National Parks.

The demand for more national parks continues. If all the bills which ask for such parks should pass we would have half a hundred more, which would be maintained at government expense and really be for the benefit of the communities where they are located.

TWO MORE SOLAR SYSTEMS REVEALED BY CALIFORNIAN.

New Cosmic Units Said to Travel at Speed of 175 Miles a Second.

Two new solar systems which travel through space at the rate of 175 miles a second, with a separate combination of stars and clouds, all of which are dimly perceivable through powerful lenses, are believed to have been discovered by W. W. Campbell, director of the Lick Observatory. In a report to President Wheeler of the University of California on work conducted at San Diego, Chile, he says that our universe may be regarded as a huge grindstone. Looking at the Milky way, the stars are thick and bright. But as one's gaze sweeps down toward the horizon the stars become fewer.

The fact that the Magellanic clouds are not directly above, but several degrees from the zenith, makes it seem probable that they do not lie inside of our universe. The clouds are farther away than our stars, apparently behind them. Gazing beyond the stars into the background of space, two immense condensations of light are found. Are they worlds? Perhaps they are people.

Director Campbell says:

"The great distance of these objects from the Milky way, coupled with their high velocities in reference to our system of stars, lends strong support to the hypothesis that the Magellanic clouds are isolated cosmic unit systems, which have no apparent connection with our own stellar system."

The isolated cosmic units apparently are interstellar speeding through space at the rate of 175 miles a second, which in comparison with the movement of our stars seems slow.

Buzzer Keeps Tab on Wife

Electric Device Awakens Husband
When the Door Is Opened.

In the divorce case of Mrs. Emma S. Bullis against Dr. M. C. Bullis of Washington the doctor told how he kept track of his wife's movements during the night, although she slept in an adjoining room. He attached two small wires to the door of her room, bringing them through an electric battery to a small buzzer on a cord, which he wore around his neck. The moment his wife's door opened or closed he was awakened and was on the qui vive.

Electrical merchants recommend this attachment, which can be installed easily and at small cost, for wives whose husbands have a habit of returning in the wee sma' hours and slipping in so quietly they are not heard.

WILL FIGHT TO END, SAYS KING

Message of George V as Parliament Quits.

PROLOGUED UNTIL FEB. 15

Declares Allies Will Not Lay Down Arms Until Cause Carrying Future of Civilization is Vindicated.

London, Jan. 28.—Parliament was prorogued until February 15. In the prorogation King George said:

"We shall not lay down our arms until we have vindicated the cause which carries with it the future of civilization."

The speech of the king was probably the briefest on record on such an occasion, but his references to the war were regarded as highly important.

"For eighteen months my navy and army have been engaged, in concert with brave and steadfast allies, in defending our common liberties and the public law of Europe against unprovoked encroachments by the enemy," he said. "I am sustained by the determination of my people at home and overseas to carry our flag to a final decisive victory. In this struggle, forced upon us by those who hold in light esteem the liberties and covenants which we regard as sacred, we shall not lay down our arms until we have vindicated the cause which carries with it the future of civilization."

"I rely with confidence upon the loyal and united efforts of all my subjects, which have never failed me, and I pray that Almighty God may give us His blessing."

The king thanked the house of commons for the ungrudging liberality with which it has provided for the heavy demands of the war.

The result of the anxiously awaited debate in the house of commons on the blockade question was that the British government adheres to its existing policy.

A resolution introduced by Arthur Balfour, Unionist member for Plymouth, that the entire over-oceanic traffic with Germany should be prevented by a blockade, was talked out and the subject dropped, thus leaving the position exactly as before the debate, except that parliament seems more converted to the government policy.

Interesting figures published by the war department partly demolished the elaborate structure raised by the newspapers, and Sir Edward Grey's effective speech appeared to finish the work thus begun.

After the foreign secretary had spoken, Commander Bellairs said he had anticipated that nineteenth of the house would be against Sir Edward, but since his speech he had to admit nineteenth were with him. In fact, after the foreign secretary sat down, the house gradually emptied, and at one time during the debate only a half dozen members were present.

CHINAMAN KILLS WHITE WIFE
Shoots Woman in Their Room, But Says It Was Accident.

Philadelphia, Jan. 28.—Margaret Wab, twenty-three years old, the wife of Joseph Wab, a Chinese, was shot and killed in their room on the second floor of a chop suey restaurant, at 1232 South street.

Joseph, who is thirty-five years old, was arrested by the police with four witnesses, two colored men, a colored woman and a Chinese, who were found in the room.

The police believe the woman was killed accidentally and exonerated the husband, whom they charged with the shooting when they arrested him. Dorothy Foy, a colored woman, wife of Joseph Foy, proprietor of the restaurant, admitted that she held the revolver when the shot was fired. She said she pulled the trigger when Joseph Wab sought to grab the weapon from her.

NEED 1,500,000 COAST GUARD

Wood Says Belligerent Could Land 500,000 Men in Thirty Days.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The position of the United States in a war world was described to the house military committee by Major General Leonard Wood as like that of "a ship at sea, with typhoon signals coming from many directions."

"We are living in an era of war," he said, "and gradually are accumulating most of the troubles of the world."

General Wood, who appeared at the committee's hearings on the army increase bill, said it would take an army of a million and a half to hold a line from Boston south. Should conditions at the close of the war in Europe invite attack, he declared, any of the more powerful of the belligerents could land 500,000 men on American soil in less than thirty days.

A regular army of 220,000, fully trained and always under arms, with at least 2,000,000 reserves behind them should be provided, he urged, to meet this situation. The United States navy he classed as fourth in fighting efficiency, and declared it could not maintain control of the sea or defend the coasts.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED FOR AUSTIN FLOOD

Paper Company and Directors Named in Action.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 28.—A $150,000 damage suit has been filed in the United States court northern district of New York, against the Bayless Pulp and Paper company and its directors, growing out of the Austin flood, September 30, 1911.

After the Austin dam broke, about 400 million gallons of water swept through the valley. The village of Austin, Pa., was wrecked and seventy-five lives were lost.

The complaint names these defendants, who were served: Bayless Pulp and Paper company, and its directors, George C. Bayless, Franklin J. Bayless, John Bayless, George W. Herklow, Thomas B. Cray, C. Clifford Davidson, John P. Freiberg, Addison J. Parsons and Z. Bennett Phelps.

The plaintiffs are Michael C. Collins and James P. Higgins, business men of Austin, to whom claims of some thirty other business men have been assigned, totalling $152,785.

The complaint alleges that the corporation and its directors, in order to save money, caused the dam to be constructed lighter and less secure than the engineer's original design specified, and were negligent in repairing it when it began to give way.

AMERICA COMES FIRST

Must be Guiding Principle of Foreign Born After Naturalization.

New York, Jan. 28.—"America first" must be the guiding principle of naturalized Americans, Federal Judge Clayton asserted in sentencing Harry Max Zelinka, an importer, to imprisonment for one month in the Blackwell's island penitentiary and to pay a fine of $2000 for having aided Harold Alfred Bondy, a German, to obtain an American passport in the name of "Harold Green."

Zelinka, an Austrian by birth, but a naturalized citizen of the United States, pleaded guilty.

Chooses Yard to End His Life.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 28.—Robert W. Mahoney, who boarded at the home of his cousin, John Mahoney, 1704 Tulip street, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart while standing in the yard.

YOUNG FOLKS' CORNER

Popular Japanese Games.

One of the most popular games among Japanese children is otodama, played with small cloth bags filled with red beans. The number of bags used is seven or ten. The game consists in throwing the bags into the air one after another in quick succession, trying to catch them before they reach the ground. The idea is to keep all the bags in motion.

Another popular game is ishikiri, or stone kicking. Chalk lines are drawn on the street, making squares, in which pebbles are placed. The game is to hop from one square to another on one foot, kicking the pebbles.

In the game of minihiki, or ear pulling, two boys sit opposite each other with loops in their hands and try to lasso an ear of the opponent. Another boys' game is kubihihi, or head pulling. Two boys are tied together by the neck, and then they try to pull each other about, the one yielding losing.

In niramekura sides are chosen. Each side stares at the other, and the side none of the members of which laugh is the winner. Even to show the teeth is to lose.

Udeschi is a game wherein two boys sit opposite and push hand against hand until one yields. In yubizumo, or finger wrestling, two boys match finger against finger, the fingers of the opposing hands being locked together, thumbs free. The fingers are pressed against each other until one boy's hand is pressed back or down.

Ikuu-gokko is a war game in which the youngsters dress in paper uniforms, with swords and knapsacks, and parade.

"Four Legs." A nice game to play on a rainy day is "four legs." It has a little trick in it which keeps those who do not know the game puzzled as to what it is.

Any number of persons may play. A number of chairs equal to the exact number of persons playing is put in a circle. The players then are seated with the exception of one, who is to be "it." The one who is "it" goes out of the room while an object is chosen. He is then called in and asked what is the object—for example:

Q.—Is it the picture?
A.—No.
Q.—Is it the lamp?
A.—No.
Q.—Is it the door?
A.—No.
Q.—Is it the chair?
A.—No.
Q.—Is it the book?
A.—Yes.

The question preceding the last is about an object that has four legs. So, therefore, the question following is the object which was chosen. But, in case the one "it" doesn't know the game, then he has to be "it" over again.

"Henroost." Each of the players, except one, chooses a word, which must be the name of some object, and in answering any questions put to him in the game he must introduce this word, which he has chosen, into each answer. The odd player is questioner. He may ask any questions he wishes.

The following serves as an example: Question.—I heard you got into the henroost yesterday. How did you get in?

Answer.—With the dictionary.
"What did you find there?" (to next player).
"A horse."
"What did you give him to eat?"
"A sofa pillow."

Any player who laughs or who answers incorrectly must exchange places with the questioner.

High Finance. A boy went into a candy store. He was told that he could have six sticks of candy for 5 cents. He said:

"Six sticks for 5 cents, five sticks for 4 cents, four sticks for 3 cents, three sticks for 2 cents, two sticks for 1 cent, one stick for nothing. I'll take one stick."

Pussycat's Feast. Pussycat, pussycat, where have you been?

"I've been to the kitchen—the cook coaxled me in."

Pussycat, pussycat, what did you there?"
"I dined on a turkey bone till it was bare."

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

FISH FOR DINNER.

BAKED TUNA FISH.—Put either one large can or two small cans of tuna fish in a greased pudding dish. Melt three tablespoons butter, rub in three teaspoonsful flour and add one cupful warm milk, a pinch of salt and a little pepper, three tablespoonsful minced parsley. Pour over fish and cover with buttered breadcrumbs. Bake until a rich brown.

Lobster à la Newburg.—Stir a pinch of baking soda into a pint of cream. Put with this the beaten yolks of three eggs into a double boiler and bring to the boiling point, stirring often. When it has thickened stir in quickly a glass of sherry. Add at once two cupfuls of lobster meat cut into small cubes and seasoned to taste with salt and cayenne. Stir until it is smoking hot and serve in a deep dish. The quality of the delicacy depends upon obedience to the directions herewith given and upon ready serving.

Oyster Cocktails.—To prepare this acceptable appetizer allow a half dozen small oysters to each person and put on the ice where they will be thoroughly chilled. For six covers mix together three teaspoonsful each vinegar, added six teaspoonsful lemon juice and a few drops of tabasco. Have this dressing also where it will be very cold. When ready to serve put the oysters in chilled glasses, pour the sauce over, set the glasses on a plate and serve with thin slices buttered bread.

Baked Bluefish.—Clean fish thoroughly outside and inside, wipe dry and rub with salt. Fill with stuffing and sew with greased string. Tie or use skewers to shape fish like an S. Cut slashes two inches apart in the sides and place in them narrow strips of fat salt pork or bacon. Place the fish in an upright position on a greased tin sheet and put in meat pan. Put slices of pork or bacon in the bottom of the pan to furnish fat for basting. Baste fish with flour, season with salt and pepper and bake every ten minutes. Bake until flesh will separate easily from the bones. Allow about fifteen minutes for each pound of fish.

Negligee Shirt For Men and Youths.

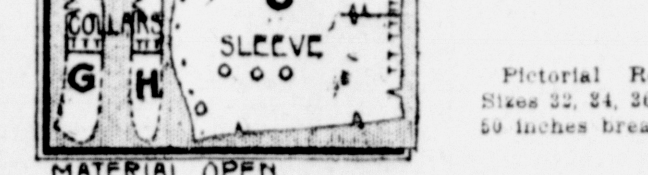

And here is a model that almost any home dressmaker can make with the perfection of a custom-made design if she follows directions carefully. In medium size the shirt requires 2½ yards 36-inch material. It will be necessary, as is shown by the cutting guide, to divide the material into two parts. One part is folded while the other is left open. On the open width of material are laid the collar, the sleeve, the pocket and the front, all a lengthwise thread. Of course the open width is doubled so that two sections can be cut at once. Be sure to place two right or two wrong sides together when using two widths of open material.

Now on the fold place the yoke, then directly to the right of it, the back. Opposite the yoke, on a lengthwise thread of the material is laid the cuff. The band and lap come next, both laid on a lengthwise thread of the goods.

If striped material is used, study the construction guide carefully and place the stripes so that they will match as nearly as possible.

This model is ideal for shirts made of madras, linen or pongee silk. It requires but a minimum of work and when well finished is far more desirable than the most expert of ready-made shirts.

Every man likes a comfortable shirt, and here is a model that almost any home dressmaker can make with the perfection of a custom-made design if she follows directions carefully.

Another's Lot.

The other girl's lot is pretty sure to seem preferable to yours, is it not? Its charms shine with a brighter luster, the drawbacks shrink into insignificance, as we regard it. Yet nine out of ten of the people who envy their neighbors would be rendered unhappy by an exchange. The halo which surrounds another's lot would vanish if it became ours.

Growing Bodies Require Much Food.

Growing bodies have the most insatiable heat, they therefore require the most food, for otherwise their bodies are wasted. In old persons the heart is feeble and therefore they require little fuel, as it were, to the flame, for it would be extinguished by much. On this account, also, fevers in old persons are not equally acute, because their bodies are cold.—Health Culture.

A Story of Abraham Lincoln's Physical Strength

By ELINOR MARSH

If Abraham Lincoln had lived till his birthday falling due in February, 1916, he would have been 167 years old. Had he not fallen in his prime at the hand of an assassin or been taken off in some other unnatural way he would doubtless have lived to a great age, for he was physically a very strong man.

We may well wonder how Abraham Lincoln endured the strain of four years of civil war, millions of people looking at him to bring about a restoration of the Union, foreign nations threatening to intervene, thus insuring the division of the country; vainly trying to find generals who could accomplish results, and constantly abused for what was considered his mismanagement. It would seem that no man without herculean strength could live through such an ordeal.

That the physical structure of Abraham Lincoln was equal to the requirements is made plain by the following story told of him many years ago by a friend of his boyhood who was employed in the same store with Lincoln.

"Billy," said Abe one day, "what makes you bet with Enoch? You ought to know better than to bet with a man on his own tricks. If he didn't know he had a sure thing he wouldn't bet."

The advice was given because this Enoch would come into the store in the evening ostensibly for the purpose of loading, but really to win small bets by a number of tricks. One of these was doubling up his hand so as to hide one of his fingers. He would bet that Billy couldn't mark that particular finger. Of course Enoch always won such bets. When Abe advised Billy to stop betting the latter told him that he had lost nearly a dollar to Enoch and he didn't wish to stop till the money was won back.

"Will you promise me," said Abe, "that you'll never bet any more if I put you in a way to win back what you have lost and a great deal more?"

"You bet!" replied Billy.

"How would you like a plug hat to wear with your Sunday clothes? It would set you up with the girls."

"I'd like a plug hat first rate, but how am I going to get one, seeing that it would cost me $7? It would take pretty high a week's salary."

"I reckon I can help you to one. At any rate, we can get the next time Enoch comes around and wants to bet you on his tricks. Tell him that you've got tired betting playhouse amounts, but if he really wants to bet something worth while you'll go him; then, if he agrees, you offer to bet him that Abe Lincoln can take a forty gallon barrel of whiskey off the floor and drink out of the bung hole."

"Can you do that, Abe?"

"Reckon I can. After the store closes tonight I'll try it."

As soon as the proprietor had gone home for the day the two clerks shut up the store, and there was a rehearsal, at which Abe convinced Billy that he would risk nothing provided he could get Enoch to take the bet.

The next day Enoch came into the store and had not been there long before he called to Billy an offer to bet him on some new trick that had not yet been demonstrated. Billy was weighing out some sugar at the time and said he hadn't time to do any fooling. But Enoch hung around till Billy had finished what he was doing, when he renewed his offer. Billy consented to talk with him and during the interview said:

"Do you know, Enoch, how strong Abe Lincoln is?"

"No, I don't, but I reckon he's pretty strong."

"I shouldn't be surprised if Abe could lift up one of those barrels of whiskey over there in the corner and take a drink out of the bung hole."

"Bet you a quarter he can't."

"Now, look a-here, Enoch. I don't want any more of these small bets. If you want to bet something to make it worth while I'll go you, but if you don't, why, let's have no more talk about it."

"What you want to bet, Billy?"

"On Abe's being able to take a forty gallon barrel off the floor and drink out of the bung hole."

"I'll bet you he can't do it."

"Enoch, I'm wanting a plug hat, and maybe you're wanting one. Did you ever wear one?"

"I had one once. It set me off fine."

"Well, here's your chance to get another. I'll bet you a plug hat that Abe can take that barrel—the big one—up off the floor and take a drink out of the bung hole."

There was a good deal of dickering, and Enoch tried to lift the barrel himself, not succeeding in stirring it. Finally he agreed to Billy's proposition, and the bet was duly made in the presence of witnesses.

Abe being called upon to decide the bet, advanced to the barrel and, stooping, tilted it on his right knee. Then he bent backward, and Billy pulled out the bung. Abe craned his neck forward and took a drink out of the bung hole, spit it out on the floor and set the barrel down again.

That was the last time Enoch came into the store with his betting offers. He paid the forfeit, and Billy kept his promise to Abe to bet no more.

Years passed, and the man who had performed this feat was called upon to perform another, one of the greatest feats required of any man who has ever lived. Who knows but that without the ability to do the one he would have been unable to do the other?

Teaching Birds to Sing.

To teach a young bird to sing it is necessary to place it in a private compartment, so there is no opportunity for play. Each of the young birds are caged in this manner and in the center of the entire cage is placed the old bird. The little ones pick up the notes given forth by the old bird and in a short time are singers themselves.

When washing marble washstands and mantle shelves never use soap as it spoils the polished surface. A little ammonia added to the water is all that is required.
